

Faculty of Fine and Applied Arts, Thaksin University

The Faculty of Fine and Applied Arts, Thaksin University, Songkhla Campus, Songkhla Province was established as an extension from the Department of Arts, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences in B.E. 2537. Later, the visual art and the music majors merged to form one department, Department of Fine Arts, on 14 August B.E. 2564. There were 3 Programs under this structure: Visual arts, Thai Music and Western Music. At present, its administrative structure includes Visual Arts and Design, Music and Performing Arts Programs. The Office of the Faculty of Fine and Applied Arts serves as its academic support unit.